The construction of a new Latin library between the end of the Republic and the Augustan Principate was anything but an inhibiting factor. The literary flourishing of the Flavian age shows that awareness of this canon rather stimulated creative tension. In the changing socio-cultural context, daring innovations transform the genres of poetry and prose. This volume, which collects papers by influential scholars of early Imperial literature, sheds light on the productive dynamics of the ancient genre system and can also offer insightful perspectives to a non-classicist readership.

The unique feature of this book is problem-solving techniques that will help the students get top scores. The first part of this book deals with theory, examples, and exercises. In the examples, wherever it is required, I have shown the problem-solving techniques that will help you tackle a problem and solve it in the shortest way. In addition, I have included many problems that are generally not given in GMAT guidebooks. The purpose is to equip you to face any situation in the actual test. The second part of this book is designed as a workbook to help you apply the problem-solving techniques that you have studied in the first part. Every problem solving has a technique, and a particular technique can be applied to different types of problems. You will have to study and master them. A successful student will not only learn the techniques but also learn how to apply the appropriate technique for a particular problem.

2021 Reprint of the 1954 U.S. Edition. Full facsimile of the original edition and not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software. This book is a companion to The New Man by the same author. Nicoll discusses, by way of the Gospels, the idea that real religion is about realizing the potential for spiritual change, latent but unborn, that exists in everyone. "The Mark" is the realization of this transformation. The author explains that in the Gospels the word translated as "sin" means in the literal Greek "missing the mark", as of a spear thrown at some object and failing to hit it. And from meaning to miss the mark it came to mean failing in one's purpose, and so erring or wrongdoing. It is Dr. Nicoll's contention that when a man is overpowered by outer life and influenced only by outside agency that person is machine-driven by his senses, but internally on the wrong road. Such a person is dominated by external life and has no spiritual life. That part of them which is truly real, and from which their own individual existence and growth can begin, is lost. It is in the wrong place. And this is sin. That is, in this sense, everyone has missed the mark, missed the idea of their own true existence.
