Time Extensions in Construction ...

Delays not caused by the contractor or sub generally warrant an extension of time.

However, many other scenarios warrant an extension of time, too.

These reasons can range from the owner delaying the start date, new or where the delays are due to circumstances outside your control. If the delays are due to your performance, the owner may have a claim for liquidated damages against you.

What are a Contractor's Rights to an Extension of Time?

If the delay is not caused by the

Access Free Construction

contractor, then an extension of time (EOT) can be applied. This extension of time is a formal request for an additional time period that can make up for delay losses. This is permitted by the law for numerous valid reasons and depending on your contract's time clause. What is more important is that you must inform
